Some general FAQs & Myths associated with voluntary Blood Donation:

Can I get infected with disease like Aids, hepatitis from donating blood?
Never, as Blood collection bags used by Lions Blood Bank are sealed sterile, single use and destroy blood bags.

How much blood will I lose?
Depending on the need, 350ml - 450 ml blood can be collected which is replaced by regenerated and other processes by your body within 24 - 48 hrs.

Will I become weak after giving blood?
The effect may be there for a period of 15 - 25 minutes. This is mostly psychological and will disappear within a few minutes after which you are fit as a fiddle.

How often can I donate blood?
Blood could be donated once in 90 days or approximately four times a year without harm to yourself.

Is the donated blood tested before given to the patient?
Yes, Lions Blood Bank ensures the safety by testing the donor blood for diseases known to be transmitted at that point of time. Currently Lions Blood Bank requires testing of each unit of donated blood for Hepatitis B (HbsAg), Hepatitis C, HIV (Antibody Test) VDRL and Malaria.

Will I be tested for these prior to donation?
No. The Donor is not tested prior to donation so as to protect confidentiality. If any disease is detected after donation, the blood is destroyed and the donor is called for counselling, which he may choose to decline. Strict confidentiality is maintained in the whole process.
